TREE CITY USA

For more than 45 years the City of Marysville has had the honor of holding the title of Tree City USA Community. This honor comes from the Arbor Day Foundation and holds the city to the highest of standards for tree planting and maintenance.

In October, Marysville Fire Department participated in Fire Prevention Week
Will Ralph was around the schools teaching the students about fire safety and prevention, teaching them to Stop Drop and Roll, testing and maintaining smoke detectors, and testing doors and safe ways to get out of the house in the event of a fire

MAYOR'S CORNER

Art is Everywhere!

Marysville is quite fortunate to be such an artistic community.
The Lee Dam Center for the Fine Arts, Marshall County Arts Cooperatiove, Marysville Area Community Theater, and other institutions are of great credit to the creativity of our residents! We are rich in all kinds of art and artists, even though far too much of it goes unnoticed in our daily hustle.

The murals that decorate businesses such as Dingers, Pepsi, HealthFirst Pharmacy, Laundry Lounge, and the former Wagon Wheel all feature gorgeous colors and eye-catching graphics. These make for nice snapshot locations for visitors and locals alike.

Beyond the ubiquitous large decorated squirrels popping up in increasing numbers over the years, there are many small and more obscure nods to humanity's creative inclinations. Have you noticed the fading advertising murals on a few of our historic structures, such as those on the upper west-facing wall of the Potter's Jewelry building or on the mid-facade TKB building? These hints at times gone by are a delightful surprise when you catch them in the just-right fading daylight hours.

There are also architectural details such as the tiles surrounding the windows of the historic depot, the name blocks above the Marysville Mutual, former Ott Electric, and former Fenwick Oil Buildings. The gingerbread details of the Koester Block, our beautiful historic courthouse: so many bits of spice for us to enjoy if we take the time!

The next time you are walking Broadway or waiting outside a business for your significant other to emerge, take a few moments to see what you can spy. You no doubt will find a little beauty to brighten your day.

Keep your eyes open!
Mayor Todd E. Frye
