

If you are not satisfied with the judgement of the court, you have the right to appeal your case to the District Court of Marshall County, KS. If you appeal the judgment, you must file a written Notice of Appeal, post an Appeal Bond and pay a filing fee in the Marshall County District Court. The Appeal must be filed within 14 calendar days from the date of sentencing. Your appeal will be set for a new trial before a different judge, or jury, in the District Court.