

Third LIFETILES Mural

The image produced below is one of the vignettes that will appear in the third and final LIFETILES mural to be mounted on the center wall between the Pony Rider and Train murals. The mural will consist of a series of vignettes that unfold as the observer views the mural. This mural, unlike the other two murals, can be viewed left to right or right to left and it will appear as though the ferry is crossing the river. The scenes that unfold are of people and places in the community. Won't you join us in helping to raise the final dollars needed to complete the mural?

The budget for the mural is $37,265 which includes the assembly, transport and installation. A single tile would be $354 dollars and could be split between family members such as brothers, sisters, parents, etc. We were successful with our previous campaign of "Buy a Tile" that funded the Pony Mural and have decided to try a similar approach for the third and final mural. There are 90 tiles. A place is provided below if you wish to help us with the funding. You can tear off the bottom of the slip or return the entire sheet to the address provided below. All contributions are tax deductible.
